

What we have learnt already

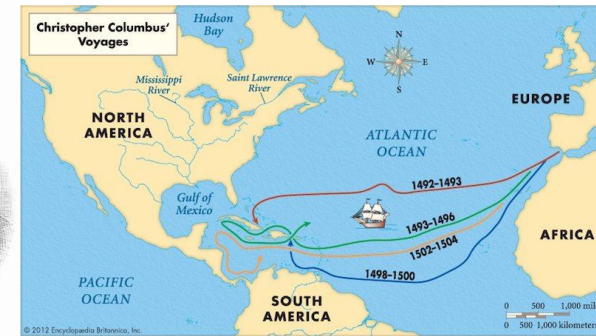

1	Chronology	I know that the Great Plague happened in London in 1665-1666.
2	People	I know that Samuel Pepys wrote a diary about the Plague and the Great Fire of London.
3	Legacy	I know the story of the Great Fire of London and how the fire spread because the shops and houses were close together.

Knowledge Gems

1	Chronology	I can place the key events of Christopher Columbus' exploration on a timeline. I can describe his famous voyage in 1492 and how Christopher Columbus landed in America instead of Asia as intended.
2	Chronology	I can place the race to explore the Antarctic in 1911 by Norwegian explorer Captain Roald Amundsen and 1912 (33 days later) by Captain Robert Falcon Scott on a timeline.
3	People	I can describe who Christopher Columbus was and how he started exploring the world. I can explain what life was like on the famous sea voyage of 1492, the challenges he faced and how it compares to a sea voyage today.
4	People	I can describe who the Antarctic explorers were and why people wanted to explore this part of the world.
5	Legacy	I can explain why his voyage to the Americas was so significant and how this changed people's lives in Europe.
6	Legacy	I can identify and use sources of evidence (e.g. Scott's diary) to describe how history has shaped explorations and scientific activities today.

What we will learn next

1	Chronology	I will order key information about how farming has changed through the last 100 years on a timeline.
2	Legacy	I will describe the importance of farming for the provision of our food and how farming today is more efficient than 100 years ago.
3	People	I will compare how the roles on the farm have changed from 100 years ago to today.
